

Andréas 2026

Celebrating 20 Years
2006-2026

From our Family to

ORIGINAL HOME OF ANDRÉAS

In 2003, during our family Easter dinner, Ron realized that our table was set with stained pot holders and old tea towels. He was then determined to make something special for Shirley that was not only useful, but looked great too. After countless trials and errors over the next 3 years, Ron finally developed the perfect solution. Soon after, Andréas Silicone was born.

The name Andréas is the name of our home town.

OUR PEOPLE

Our people are what make the difference, crafting each product as if they were making it for themselves or a loved one. We are thankful to be able to provide jobs for our community and to add on another generation of history to the old Washington Street Factory.

Thank you for supporting American jobs and businesses.

A NOTE FROM RON & SHIRLEY

When we started Andréas Silicone in 2006 we never could have dreamed that our products would be used all over the world, and it's all because of you, our amazing customers. Thank you for all of your support!

BIG MOVE IN 2011

In 2011 we outgrew our small shed, and after much research, we found a historic building for sale in Tamaqua, PA that had an amazing history. Built in 1903 by W.F. Taubel, it was initially a factory that made bathing suits and hosiery. Through the years the building was home to numerous businesses and employed many of the town's people.

We are proud to continue that tradition and keep this historic building alive and well.

OUR PRODUCTS

Andréas Silicone offers many shapes, sizes, and patterns that are perfect for any occasion. Our Trivets make beautiful placemats for those hot dishes/casseroles on the table and double as potholders, withstanding up to 600° F. Our jar openers make opening up those stubborn jars a breeze. They stick to any metal or glass surface, allowing you to put them right on your refrigerator or microwave leaving no residue. Our Lillie Pads have scalloped edges so they are able to hold liquid, making them fantastic coasters/candle holders.

The options are limitless!

Our Home

TAMAQUA, PENNSYLVANIA

The history of Tamaqua, Pennsylvania can be found on every corner of this small coal-region town. Since 1799, railroads, scenic landscapes, and rich culture have helped to shape the town every day. Its residents are humbly carrying on traditions and making history of their own.

Tamaqua, Pennsylvania continues to be a small, charming town with history that can be seen everywhere.

The old buildings on Broad Street still stand, the sounds of the locomotive trains can be heard throughout the town, and the people still carry on the traditions of their ancestors who settled here long ago.

The Washington Street Factory that was home to local businesses and employed many, is still a working machine. History is being made here at Andréas Silicone, and we are so grateful you have decided to be a part of making it with us!

TRADE SHOWS AND A MOVE TO WASHINGTON STREET

In 2006, the Szabos became committed to their business and started going from trade show to trade show showing their new silicone products to retailers.

As the years went on their success began to grow, and soon their small shed could no longer handle the demand. In 2011, the old Washington Street factory became the new home of Andréas Silicone. The history of this building and of the town that it supported for so many years continues to live on, as the initials of the original building owners are still visible on the bricks outside.

Today and Beyond...

Today, Andréas Silicone employs people of all ages and from every walk of life. Our team is a part of a close family and work together to carry on the history of Tamaqua. For the past 6 years the Andréas team has come up with creative ideas in building our float for the annual Tamaqua Halloween parade, getting 1st place for five of the years and one 3rd place. We look forward to participating in the parade every year. "Out of This World."

We couldn't be more proud of the extensive renovations done to the building since our move in 2011. We feel W. F. Taubel would be thrilled to see his building restored and adding to the community as he did in 1904.
